Yellow warning
Wind

Between 18:00 Sun 8 Dec 2019 and
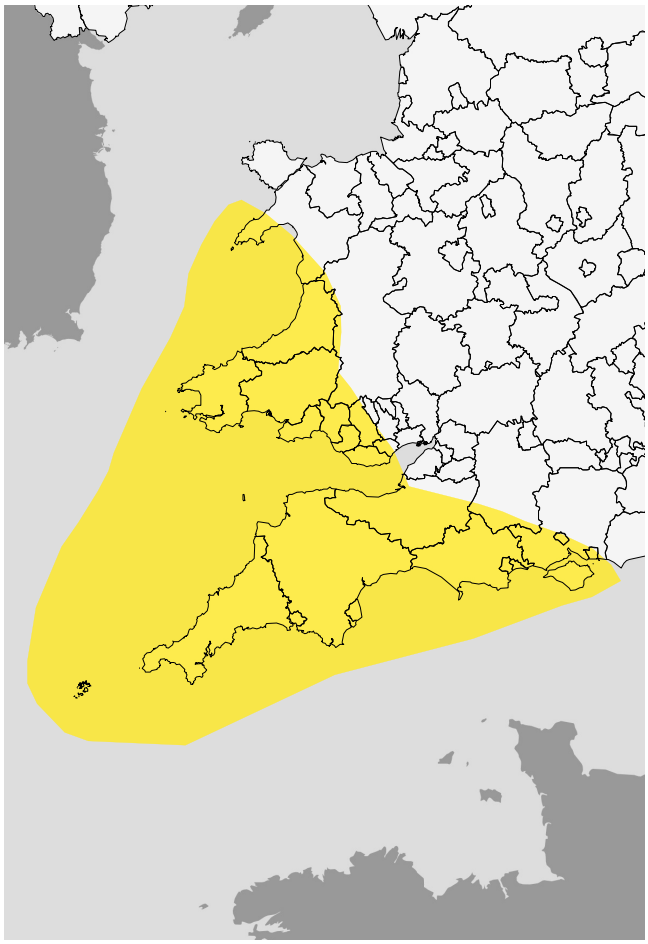
09:00 Mon 9 Dec 2019



Very strong winds are expected during Sunday evening and overnight and may cause some disruption.

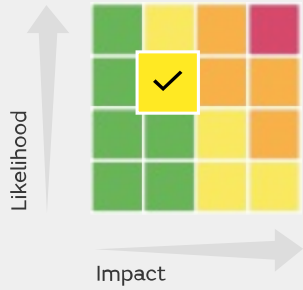
What to expect

- Some delays to road, rail, air and ferry transport are likely
- Probably some bus and train services affected, with some journeys taking longer
- Some short term loss of power and other services is possible
- It's likely that some coastal routes, sea fronts and coastal communities will be affected by spray and/or large waves
- Some damage to temporary structures is possible.

Further details

Very strong westerly and then north-westerly winds are expected to affect parts of Wales, south-west and southern England during Sunday evening and again during the early hours of Monday, easing soon after dawn.

Gusts of 50-60 mph are likely inland and 65-75 mph around some coasts. The very strong winds will be accompanied by heavy and often squally showers of rain and possibly hail. Large coastal waves are also expected.



Medium likelihood of low impacts
